

The Tsunami

Well from the media and maybe people around you, the tsunami has been greatly dramatised. For many of you the one great question would be " Why God let something like this happen?" Today i am here to assist in answering the question.

To make things very clear, God did not command this to happen. In fact this event has nothing to do with God. The focus would be on Mother nature. To explain how Tsunami is form geographically it is a mass of waves being created due to heavy or destructive underground movement. So this event is something that mother earth created. Not God. This misconception has to be understood. God is not some old man trying to make life miserable for man. It was Mother Earth who choose to let this thing happen.

So knowing that why did Mother Earth do that? According to a channeling, Mother Earth is also an living entity. Just like a man who has discomfort. Mother Earth needs to remove discomfort from her system. So such movements on the various plates will help her to rebalance. This is one action that had happen. If earth do not do such rebalancing, Earth will only end up delaying her evolution.

So why do people have to die in this disaster then? The answer is simple. As earth is evolving, some people who did not have the level of initiation or light within them will have to put on another planet. This process can only be done when the people die physically. So these people are actually reallocated to another place in the universe for their greater evolution.

In some way these people who choose to leave in such a manner is brave souls. Not only did they help the earth to evolve, they also help bring the people to higher understanding and unity. So they should be praise.

This event in some sense should not be moan with such negativity. The best thing we should do is to pray instead, This prayer is for the victims. So do learn to appreciate this great lesson brought to you.

The prayer for the departed in the event:

Dear Archangel Azrael,
Spread your beautiful wings
Embrace all who have departed
Bring them to their next journey
Into the light and Arms of God
With full Grace let this be done so
Amen

With Blessings of Love,
Kelvin Khemery